MUST PLACE ORDER FOR SODATOL NOW

Experiments Show Sunlight Needed for Growing Animals and Chickens.

By L. J. MURKIN
Orders for sodatol for spring delivery are now coming in to John Swenhardt, Madison, at a rapid rate. Already 45 parcels are scheduled for March delivery and 25 cars for the early part of April. The capacity of the Barkeville plant, where the material is being carbidized, is only three cars a day, 66,000 pounds, and this station has to serve several nearby states in addition to the upper lake states, in which land clearing is most active.

It is quite imperative, if Wisconsin is to get all that its farmers want, that orders for this material be received as soon as possible. The intrinsic value of these explosives in stump removal is fully 50 per cent more if used in wet ground, so that early spring work is well worth the effort. In some of the counties the phenomenal use of these cheap explosives is being arranged for.

Need Sunlight
Recent work by the departments of agricultural chemistry and poultry, Madison, has shown that sunlight may be a factor in animal growth similar in importance to the role which it plays in the development of plants. Experimental work with chickens has demonstrated that leg weakness, a disease which commonly causes severe losses among the early hatchlings of the season, can be prevented if the animals are exposed to the direct light of the sun. It also appears that ordinary window glass decreases greatly the effectiveness of sunlight in comparison with unfiltered rays.

Such vitamins-carrying food as green plants, cod liver oil, or eggs may be fed to chickens when they are grown under conditions of reduced sunlight (cloudy days, etc.), or within doors and excellent results obtained. The use of eggs in chicken feed, especially infertile eggs from the incubator, seems to be the simplest and most convenient way of handling the leg weakness problem.

Soil Feeds Cheaper
It is far cheaper to purchase feed for soil than feed for livestock. For example, alfalfa hay costs from $25 to $35 per ton if purchased where it can be grown for $8 per ton. All that is necessary to grow the alfalfa is to feed our soils lime plus manure or phosphate in addition to inoculation of the seed. This extra feeding can all be done for less than $3 per acre per year, or approximately $1 for each ton of hay. Where can one get a better return on the dollar? Even the cost of one ton of alfalfa hay but costs from $25 to $35 per ton while a ton of alfalfa costs only $8 to grow.

The men who laugh at the lime idea and fail to grow a large acreage of alfalfa are "straining a gnat and swallowing a camel," whether they realize it or not. Some day these men will awake to the fact that their neighbor farmers are making good money even on high priced land with alfalfa, corn silage, and a good herd of cows. These things are the way out. Let your neighbor his much loved small grains if he wishes. One acre of your alfalfa will buy three to five times as large a milk check. Farming is not going to the dogs. Those who refuse to change their methods will be forced out. There is as good money in farming as ever for the man who knows and puts into practice the knowledge. Alfalfa in place of most of our small grains is the secret.

WESTERNIZE TURK, IS ASSEMBLY PLAN

May Quit Fez for Derby; Also Adopt Latin or French Language.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Constantinople—Now that the caliphate has been abolished, the Turkish national assembly is turning its attention to other reforms with a view to westernizing Turkey. The lawmakers have under consideration a bill to abolish the Turkish alphabet for Latin letters and one Constantinople newspaper has begun to appear in French.

Some of the legislators insist upon closing the private Greek, Armenian, Jewish and other foreign schools altogether. Others are urging the assembly to discard the ancient fez, to abolish religious teachers in the American and foreign schools, and to substitute the derby for the national head dress.

Turkish women are petitioning the assembly to adopt a new code of laws respecting their rights. These would embrace abolition of polygamy and the barren, suppression of eunuchs, limitation of divorce and the attainment of majority at 17 instead of 12 years.

Other provisions demanded are that both parties be required to present health certificates before marriage, and that divorce cases be decided according to the American standards and only before judicial tribunals.

MUST HAVE HOTEL MONEY BY APR. 10

Campaigners Will Seek to Get Cash Going Into Other Investments.

Reorganization of plans of approval and money of campaign in the $100,000 for the new hotel money made at a meeting of the executive committee at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon. This followed a one day's rest in the drive.

With April 10 as the last day upon which the drive may be held, because the money must be banked at that time to seal the contract, the campaign is determined to steer some of the hotel money into this project that might otherwise be invested outside of the city.

It is pointed out that about $70,000 in bonds is invested in outside bonds by the people weekly. Only a few days ago, 22 bond salesmen were counted in one hotel lobby in one time, showing that money is being invested by local people.

It is the announced object of the campaign to convince the citizens of Janesville that civic spirit demands they succeed with the hotel project.

FRAUD, CONSPIRACY AND ILLEGALITY ARE CHARGED IN PLEA

returning the properties to the government and enforcing an accounting.

Former Secretary Fall was charged with making "false representations" to the late President Harding, which resulted in the transfer of the lands from the navy to the interior department. The government denies there was any wrong doing in law for leasing the lands at all.

Conspiracy is charged. "The bill further alleges that Fall and Harry P. Sinclair, the latter acting for the Mammoth Oil company, 'did combine, conspire and confederate to defraud the United States.'"

The result of these alleged acts, the government's bill recites, was to lease the Teapot lands to the Mammoth Oil company, at an inadequate, improper and fraudulent consideration.

Former Secretary Denby, in connection with the transaction, is described in the government bill as "having exercised no discretion" and his signature is characterized "as merely a colorable attempt to evidence the compliance by him to his terms."

Sinclair Plans Parties. The Sinclair Crude Oil purchasing company and the Sinclair Pipe Line company, operating facilities on Teapot Dome, were made parties to the suit as "trespassers" to be ejected, their properties to be taken over by the receiver.

Prepared by former Senator Pomerehne and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel for the government, the bill goes over much of the ground covered in the senate investigation. It recites that former President Harding was without authority to transfer the lands, but did so on "false representations" from Fall.

Who desired to deal with the lands "not in the interest of the United States but to the advantage, profit and benefit of the Mammoth Oil company and, in particular, Harry P. Sinclair."

Knew Illegality, Charge. Fall, the bill charges, knew at the time the whole transaction was illegal. Evidence of the alleged conspiracy, the government's bill charges, is found in the fact that the agreements were made in secret by private negotiation "without advertisement of competitive bidding, and that prospective bidders were discouraged from bidding and denied the opportunity by Fall, the Texas company, the Pioneer Oil company, Edward L. Doheney and Leo A. Stuck, the bill says, were among those so excluded.

At the same time the government charges "Fall steadfastly refused" to take the opinion of law officers of the government on the legality of the proposal.

Allege Conspiracy. "By the acts herein before set forth, and other matters," the government's bill charges, "Albert F. Fall and Harry P. Sinclair did fraudulently and covitously combine, confederate and conspire to defraud the United States of America and the result of their alleged acts was to get the Teapot lands leased to the Mammoth Oil company, at an inadequate, improper and fraudulent consideration."

HARRY JONES IS COUNCIL ASPIRANT

Tobacco Man Is Fourth to Enter Race for Seat on City Council.

With the spring election less than three weeks distant, a fourth candidate for the office of city councilman at large developed Thursday when Harry P. Jones, 610 South Second street, formally announced his candidacy. His announcement gives assurance that there will be a contest for the council seats as up to now there have been but three applicants for the three vacancies which occur this year.

Mr. Jones has been in the tobacco business for many years with his father, George A. Jones, and has a son, Harry P. Jones, Jr., a graduate of Janesville high school, class of 1902, and has lived in this city all his life. He came into the public's view a year ago when he began construction of the Franklin theater on North Franklin street. Following the building of a foundation and erection of steel operations ceased, but Mr. Jones has plans for renewing the work and completing the big theater this year.

The other three candidates for councilman, previously announced, are: Under the firm name of C. J. Jones & Son, Inc., a graduate of Janesville high school, class of 1902, and has lived in this city all his life. He came into the public's view a year ago when he began construction of the Franklin theater on North Franklin street. Following the building of a foundation and erection of steel operations ceased, but Mr. Jones has plans for renewing the work and completing the big theater this year.

While the four day period for filing nomination papers does not end until next Monday, three candidates for supervisor have already left their papers with City Clerk-Treasurer A. O. Olson for formal filing next week. They are: George Woodruff, 110 Olive street, seeking re-election as supervisor from the First ward; E. D. McGowan, 111 Milwaukee avenue, candidate for re-election from the Third; and W. J. Jones, 102

Cooling Machine Is Installed in School Cafeteria

Connection of the cooling machine and refrigerator in the kitchen of the new high school cafeteria was completed Wednesday and the system put into operation Thursday. The equipment, according to Supt. P. O. Holt, is entirely satisfactory, and school officials are well pleased with it. The cost of operation is said to be extremely low as the machine is entirely automatic, running only when the temperature of the refrigerator rises too high.

The machine is controlled by only one device. All that is necessary is to set it at the desired temperature, and the outfit runs and stops so that the specified degree of cold is maintained continually.

The machine is of the ammonium

Time to Look After America.

The biggest job congress has ahead of it, after the tax bills are off the list, is to make a new immigration law. Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear on the members by interests demanding cheap labor and much of it so that the labor market will always be filled, and by the groups of foreign interests who ask in no uncertain terms that special privilege be given their peoples. Rumania, for instance, is most arrogant in asking for an open immigration law.
To restrict immigration, says Rumania, is to stop a large sum of money, constantly flowing from America to the home country. The mass of the immigrants from Rumania, Bulgaria, Serbia, and other Balkan states, are not becoming citizens of the United States, have apparently no intention of becoming citizens and are here solely for the purpose of making a few extra dollars to send back or take back to their native land.
They are not a part of the nation here, have no interest in it except as wage earners and could well be dispensed with in our national life.

We have an immigration bill before the house committee, with quotas based on the census of 1930, which would make it possible for additional immigration from the northern and eastern countries of Europe, and from the British Isles. It would greatly reduce the immigration from Central and Southern Europe, consumption to be desired. The percentage of such immigrants becoming citizens is very low and the percentage also of our criminal classes, recruited from such immigration, is also very high. It is time to have a little more spinal column and less playing to the foreign population which has no spirit of America and does not intend to have any such spirit. Of the millions of people who came to America prior to 1930 and have made homes here since, practically all of them became citizens and no better Americans live than they.

We have no room for the millions of immigrants who are ready now and waiting for the gates to open if congress goes to sleep and does not pass a restrictive immigration law before June 30, 1934.

Senator Reed knows how it feels to be kicked by the democratic mule.

Will Undoubtedly Vote for Coolidge.

That the republicans will vote and generally do vote the republican ticket will find the name of Calvin Coolidge at the head of the ticket next November, seems plain as A. B. C. It is too bad that Wisconsin cannot join the procession and make the nomination unanimous on the first ballot. It would be the best thing for the nation that has happened since the second nomination of McKinley in 1900. The first congressional district expects to keep up the record it has held and send two delegates to the Cleveland national convention who will vote for Mr. Coolidge. Messrs.
J. A. Craig of Janesville and Thomas Scott, of Kenosha, are the candidates for those places in the confidence of the people. They are pledged to vote for Coolidge and a vote for them on April 1, is a vote for the president. Those who vote for Coolidge, April 1, in the primary will have another opportunity to vote for Coolidge again in November. It is not often one has the privilege of voting for president twice in the same year but the voter can do it in 1924 in the first district.

The oil committee child's play will be perfected by having a Ladd as chairman.

35 Foremen for 31 Workmen.

Some of the things that can be accomplished in a large city where correction of municipal evils is harder than in a city of less population, have been demonstrated since St. Louis, Missouri, put in its Municipal Research department. Garbage disposal cost $2.10 a ton before but the bureau said it could be done for $1.03. Some of the city officials called on the bureau to apologize for its rash statement but it stuck and the low bid after reconsidering was for the bureau estimate, $1.03 a ton. Now the latest report was that the bureau was inquiring why it took 35 foremen to watch 31 workmen at the Macadam section of the department of streets. In half a month the workmen drew $394 and the foremen $2,172. Over in Cleveland the mayor found just such wastefulness and saved to the taxpayers a million and a half dollars in such items alone in his year before city management came in. Now it remains for the manager form to keep up the economy.

The servant problem has reached to the national government. It is hard to find them.

That was a good meeting of the Twilight Club, Janesville's greatest public forum, when expressions of support for the city park were made without reservation. It looks now after many discouragements that we will have a real recreation place for the people of the city. There are still left several thousand persons who have no automobile. There will always be those who do not have these privileges and we should always look at the parks and recreation questions from their viewpoint as well as from that of the family that can ride out wherever it pleases whenever it pleases to wherever it pleases, for a day's outing.

Mr. Hedin calls himself an "honest, unimpaired

ONE ROOM SCHOOL PASSES

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—That the little one room schoolhouse may never be only history in the United States is the hope of the United States bureau of education. The one-room school in the country has provided picturesque material for reminiscences for so many self-made men, and has made Americans who never attended such a school have a distorted idea of its romance and homely charm.
The fact is, the one-room school is about as romantic and as desirable in 1924 country life as hand-spun or primitive shoemaking would be.
But while other features of pioneer days are almost everywhere obsolete, the one-room school, which has become so inadequate, is still with us.

Half a century or more ago, the one-room school represented the best education available to most people in ordinary circumstances in rural districts and small towns. The graduate of one of these schools had more or less thorough knowledge of the three R's, spelling, and a little history, geography, and elocution. In the school from which he came, the teacher might have from 12 to 50 pupils of all ages, and each one progressed as fast as he conveniently could. This meant that there could be no teaching of the modern type.
The teacher could only assign lessons and hear recitations, and even that kept her busy. So the pupil was lucky if he got as far as the sixth grade.

The one-room public school graduate was not particularly handicapped then, because he was on the same educational level as the majority of people with whom he came in contact. To give a country boy of today an 1865 education and to expect him to be a successful man is another matter. Yet a survey recently published shows almost 188,000 one-teacher schools in the United States.

Eighteen million boys and girls live in small towns and in the country, and two years ago one-fourth of those who went to school at all attended one-teacher schools. From one end of the country to the other, with the exception of a very few states, the little one or two-room schoolhouse with a single teacher in charge is a prominent feature of the rural landscape.

The teacher of such a school today has had some training in her profession. If she has only a few pupils she may try to give them some of the advantages of larger, up-to-date schools, such as health training, sewing, drawing, singing, and nature study. Lately she has had enough of a course in education to be able to teach special subjects expertly, and she has at best little time for "extras" anyway.

The meager course of study is the most obvious defect of the one-teacher school, but it is not the really tragic feature. According to J. F. Abel, an expert of the Bureau of Education, the one-teacher school means a pitifully limited social experience for the children who attend it. The child who stays there day after day sees only the teacher and the other children who live within walking distance of the building. He acquires the local vocabulary, and local tones and mannerisms. The worst habits of the community group tend to fester on him. There is little or no opportunity for the social interests which are so common a part of city pupils' lives. Athletics, debates, moving picture programs, and plays are practically impossible without equipment, reference books, and on auditorium. Teachers say that children who have been transferred to larger schools of 200 or more pupils have very soon displayed a marked change in their speech, table manners, poise, and interests.

When the farm child was born, lived, worked, and died in the same neighborhood, and when he plugged away with no thought for anything but farming, he probably did not feel his social limitations resulting from a one-room school education. But now the phonograph and radio bring the outside world to the farm, while automobiles and fast trains make traveling and moving simpler than in the days of covered wagons. The population is so fluid that no child can be given a "country education" with any assurance that he will never need anything better.

Farmers are awake to all this. Mr. Abel tells of addressing an audience of farmers on consolidated schools. He dwelt with enthusiasm on the broader course of study which can be given when several communities organize and build a consolidated school. There was no response from the audience, and the speaker began to think that they were unprogressive farmers of the who were good-enough-for-father-is-good-enough-for-me type. To close his address he began to speak of the broader social experiences which the consolidated school would make possible. To his surprise, the farmers at once leaned forward to hear better, and at the end of the talk two farmers were on their feet eager to discuss the local situation.

The consolidated school is the solution of a good many rural education problems. There are districts in which the homes are so widely scattered and in which assessed property values are so low that only the one-room schoolhouse is possible. Other country districts, better situated, are combining and building school plants as expensive and as well equipped and well managed as those in many a large town.

The typical consolidated country school has an auditorium, a gymnasium, reading room, manual training shop, and laboratories. It also has a playground and athletic field, and a garden. It can attract better teachers than the one-room school, not merely because salaries are better, but also because the teachers prefer an up-to-date building and the companionship of other teachers.

The consolidated school also makes it possible for the children to take accredited high school work, which is so often out of the question in small country schools. This is an important point, because a high school course is now considered a part of an ordinary public school education. Many farmers in isolated rural districts are aware of the expense of sending their children off to high school or to boarding schools, and many others move away to larger communities where educational advantages can be had.

Transportation has been one of the most troublesome aspects of consolidation. Once it was the aim of educators and tax payers to have a public school within walking distance of every child. The never idea is that a public school need only be within riding distance of the pupils. The old fashioned school district was about four miles in area. Now the districts extend over 25, 50, or even 100 square miles.

This means that transportation must be furnished for the pupils. One or more automobile buses which travel over fixed routes are a part of most consolidated school projects. The country child commutes to and from school by bus, and the cost is included in the school expenses and is paid by the tax payers. The consolidated school project is increasing rapidly. There are now more than 12,000 such schools.

dated and patriotic sentiment." It is something for him to be able to admit it right out in public. Also it is a good thing to get the dictionary revised so we will know what "honest and patriotic" mean.

If Fall was "apples" in a code then McLean

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

IN A FACTORY.

What do you see in a factory?
Wheels that turn and fires that blaze,
Metals twisted in countless ways.
What do you think that we're here
Hooped and piled at the factory door?
What is this array of men about,
Hurrying in and hurrying out?
Is it only something that's being made?
Is it only an evidence of trade?

This I saw in a factory—
A kindlier world than war can make,
A world where fewer hearts shall break.
For the coal and the ore mean a thousand things
Beyond iron wheels and gears and springs;
And I said to myself, there is bread in these,
There are clothes for the children of men to wear.
There are schools and churches and books to read
And every blessing which mortals need.

This I found in a factory—
As the army came and the army went,
A grave man over his problems bent;
How, we know so little, he slowly said,
What do you think that we're here ahead?
Yes, each day finds us with something done
Which makes life better for every one.
And whenever the light of knowledge breaks,
The world is freed from its old mistakes.

I thought as I stood in that factory:
This here is a nation lives and dies,
From the ore and the coal must our glory rise;
Here where the metals are mixed and poured Shine civilization's surest sword.
This here is a nation's life is done
And the world made better for every one;
This here, in a factory, wise men see A glimpse of the world that shall come to be.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1924.

While Mars is adverse today, according to astrology, Venus is being aspect.
"This is a more favorable to love affairs than it is to business and should be especially unlucky for engineers, contractors and all constructive trades.

There is a sign read as indicating rumors of international disturbances that will affect the United States.
Labor in this country comes under a sway making for much dissatisfaction within the union, dissensions among leaders and lack of unity in plan or action.

All the influences at this time tend toward unrest and discontent. Quarrels may be easily precipitated and organizations of various sorts likely to be disturbed by internal troubles.
The evening should be most fortunate for the production of new plays or the appearance of actors in new parts.

Women are so much agitated at this time over some public or political issue, if the stars are read aright.
Railway accidents are so persistently prophesied that it is wise to use all possible caution in traveling.

Venus is in an aspect favorable for religious matters, and much interest in spiritual welfare probably will be manifested.
This rule is likely to encourage novel cults and revival of interest in occult investigation.
Superstition is apt to be encouraged by the rule of the planets during this year which will be marked by the appearance of many strange and weird teachers.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of rather a bad year, while business will be satisfactory and domestic affairs happy.
The young will court and marry.

The reformer must be sincere, after all. He labors ceaselessly to work himself out of a job.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

March 13, 1884.—William R. Whitney of this city, who studied medicine in St. John's college, and Harold B. Anderson who read in Palmer's office, have just been graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago. Dr. Anderson was president of the graduating class.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

March 12, 1894.—The committee on lights of the common council reported in favor of installing 75 arc lights on the streets. The report was not adopted, being lost only by the opposing vote of Mayor Thoroughgood. It will come up again at the next meeting of the council. The liberalists will give a St. Patrick's day celebration Saturday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

March 12, 1904.—A reduction in the price of eggs from 28 cents to 20 cents has taken place the past few days. Flour remains at the high mark of $1.15 per bushel. The market is heavy flying, but has not yet broken through the heavy layer of ice.—April Fool's day and Good Friday both fall on the same day this year.

TEN YEARS AGO

March 12, 1914.—Ada Lewis, Belle Campbell, Bessie Buell, Mrs. Harry Garbutt, Mrs. Frank Pember and Mrs. Janet B. Day took part in the program of the Summer Household Economics club of the county, which met in the Methodist church here yesterday. Mrs. O. D. Bates was elected secretary, and Mrs. George Ossgood, auditor.

IN THE BEGINNING

was the Word, and the Word was God.
All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.—John 1:1, 3.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author.

SEA FOOD IS HEALTHY FOOD

More than half of the high school in our students in some of our inland cities have been found to have simple goitre.

Every "enlarged neck" is
goitre.
By replacing meat with sea fish or shellfish in the dietary two or three times each week the amount of iodine ingested can be increased considerably.

This refers to each and every kind of edible sea food. Canned sea food has some iodine value—aside from its ordinary food value which combines favorably with the iodine.
Oysters, crabs, shrimp, clams, lobster, fresh salmon, fresh cod, fresh tunny, trout, whitefish, eel, and numerous other varieties are obtainable in most of our markets nowadays.
Smoked herring contains considerable iodine and can be found in the most isolated country stores.

Aside from its value for preventing goitre, iodine may be considered a more important than iron for keeping us generally fit. Unless you're in a very poorly conducted school, you are probably getting your iodine from sea food. If you don't, you're bound to get it from your iron, but if you live far from the sea you had better meet the fish market man and get your iodine.

Q.—What is the value of iodine?
A.—Iodine is a chemical element which enters into the composition of the thyroid gland, and is necessary for the proper functioning of the gland. It is also necessary for the proper functioning of the entire
body.

Q.—What are the symptoms of iodine deficiency?
A.—The most common symptom of iodine deficiency is goitre, or enlargement of the thyroid gland.
Other symptoms include nervousness, irritability, and general weakness.

Q.—How can iodine deficiency be prevented?
A.—Iodine deficiency can be prevented by the use of iodine-rich foods, such as sea food, or by the use of iodine supplements.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine?
A.—Iodine is essential for the proper functioning of the thyroid gland, which in turn is essential for the proper functioning of the entire body. Iodine also helps to prevent goitre and other thyroid disorders.

Q.—What are the sources of iodine?

A.—The primary source of iodine is sea food, which contains large amounts of the element. Iodine is also found in some land plants, such as seaweed.

Q.—What are the dangers of iodine deficiency?
A.—Iodine deficiency can lead to goitre, which can become a serious obstacle to breathing. It can also lead to other thyroid disorders, such as hyperthyroidism.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine
supplements?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to prevent iodine deficiency and the associated symptoms of goitre and other thyroid disorders. They can also help to improve the overall health of the body.

Q.—What are the symptoms of
hyperthyroidism?
A.—The symptoms of hyperthyroidism include nervousness, irritability, weight loss, and general weakness.
Other symptoms include a rapid heart rate and excessive sweating.

Q.—What are the symptoms of hypothyroidism?
A.—The symptoms of hypothyroidism include sluggishness, weight gain, and general weakness. Other symptoms include a slow heart rate and constipation.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine
supplements for hyperthyroidism?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to prevent hyperthyroidism by maintaining the proper balance of iodine
in the body. They can also help to improve the overall health of the
body.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine supplements for hypothyroidism?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to prevent hypothyroidism by maintaining the proper balance of iodine
in the body. They can also help to improve the overall health of the
body.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine
supplements for goitre?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to prevent goitre by maintaining the proper balance of iodine in the body.
They can also help to improve the overall health of the body.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine supplements for other thyroid disorders?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to prevent other thyroid disorders by maintaining the proper balance of iodine in the body. They can also help to improve the overall health of the body.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine
supplements for general health?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to improve the overall health of the body by maintaining the proper balance of iodine in the body. They can also help to prevent thyroid disorders.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine
supplements for children?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to prevent goitre and other thyroid disorders in children. They can also help to improve the overall health of the child.

Q.—What are the benefits of iodine
supplements for pregnant women?
A.—Iodine supplements can help to
prevent goitre and other thyroid disorders in pregnant women. They can also help to improve the overall health of the woman and the child.

True Story of

truly seemed to give Great Britain rights which the act of congress had taken away. Mr. Wilson knew also that the slightest indication of American friendship for Great Britain would irritate the Irish-Americans and would cause Germany to look askance at American policy in regard to which might be German-American opposition on the Wilson side. His fears were fully confirmed on these two points a few months later when he asked congress to repeal the law that had been passed in a previous session which exempted the payment of tolls. Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, reacted by threatening to resign. Wilson in the circumstances would be construed abroad as the growth of an alliance between the United States and Germany. He worked tooth and nail to defeat the purposes of Mr. Wilson.

As it happened, the president-elect Bryan and Grey by did not think that the tariff and currency reform would become paramount. The mind was fixed during the Bermuda vacation on the all-absorbing task of picking a cabinet.

Should the members be political leaders chosen for their influence in congress or should they be trusted personal friends of proved competence and administrative talent? He frankly discussed the two theories but gave no indication at the time as to which he preferred. Circumstances, he realized, would control the selection of his cabinet.

Both Federal and State Collectors' Offices Open Nights Balance of Week.

With a large increase in the number of filings, an extra man, I. K. Knutson, has been assigned to the local postoffice as an assistant to J. E. O'Brien, federal tax collector. As many as 125 cases are now being handled daily.

In expectation of an even larger number who will file this week-end, the office will be open every evening until 9 o'clock.

Saturday is the final date for filing to avoid the payment of the penalty of 25 per cent.

Saturday is also the final date for filing state income tax returns, and the office of P. A. Taylor, income tax assessor, in the court house will be kept open the last three nights of this week—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

1,400 Use Gym at "Y" for All Forms of Sport

An increase of $6 in the number using the gymnasium in February was reported to the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. by the physical director, A. W. Bergman, at the meeting held this week. The total number using the gym during February was 1,397, against 1,311 in January.

The largest single classification in the gym schedule is the business men, totaling 220. The Cadets come second, with an enrollment of 192. Other classes are as follows: Juniors, 77; Intermediates, 74; Senior High, 50; employed group, 54; seniors, 65; leaders, 12. The total number in classes is 652.

The number using the gym for basketball playing was 250, of whom 24 were from visiting teams. In all, 16 games were played in the Industrial league, and four out of town teams, the Madison Triangles, Milton Badgers, Milton Junior club and the Beloit Chevrolets played here.

Numbers of these participating in other sports are: Hand-ball, 102; boxing and wrestling, 14; track, 45. The total gym use, including the 652 attending for class work, and the 745 others, totaled 1,397.

Boys' club work made most progress during the month, according to the report of the boys' department heads, John Pugh, boys' work secretary, and A. C. Preston, community boys' secretary.

The Junior club met four times during the month and the Cadet

11,000 Days Lost by Pupils Since First of Year

Illness during the month of February was as usual the largest single item keeping Janesville children out of school, according to the report made by Miss Rosemary Phinick, in charge of the attendance department. Students were absent 1,735 days on that account. Weather was given as the second largest cause, resulting in the loss of 683 days. Forty-eight days were lost through children finding it necessary to help at home, and 23 days by children out of the city. Only 22 days were missed through truancy, according to the report. The total time lost was 2,972 days in February.

Eleven thousand four hundred twenty days absence are reported since Jan. 1, with 7,313 days resulting from illness, and 1,001 days from weather conditions. Other items in the two months figures are: Help at home, 243 days; care of babies, 23 days; accidents, 118 days; out of city, 400; moving, 11; religious holidays, 13; and truancy, 41. The total, including cases from various other causes, is 11,420 days.

Eight families entered four children during February, and 11 families with 11 children withdrew, leaving a decrease of seven in the enrollment for the month. This is the first decrease reported in two years. The new census is 4,578, and at the first of last month was 4,585. Activities of the attendance department include 38 calls at homes, nine calls to schools, five notices sent to parents, census taken in four homes, and four referred to aid societies. Fourteen requests for medical certificates were received through the employment bureau, and 17 applications. Two were placed. The amount of tuition collected to date is $2,574.78.

Milton Pastor, in Hospital, Plans to Go to Michigan

After five years' service as pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church at Milton, the Rev. Henry N. Jordan has decided to accept call to an Adventist church in Battle Creek, Mich. It was learned here Wednesday afternoon.

The pastor had a charge in Battle Creek prior to going to Milton and has practically reached a decision to return to his former pastorate.

PETERSON ESTATE FILED FOR PROBATE

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This dissolves it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

CONGRESS PLACED ON DEFENSIVE BY PRESIDENT'S NOTE

and while there was some comment to the effect that Mr. Coolidge might have acted sooner, the fact is congress has had the proposal under consideration for more than a month and has simply neglected it.

The resentment of the country, if such develops, against the failure of the government to give the taxpayers the benefit of the 25 per cent reduction on 1923 incomes, is being discussed on all sides and the president is being commended for having taken the step which clearly relieves him of responsibility for congressional delay.

The administration has thought right along that if the proposal were to come to a vote neither party could afford to block action. The joint resolution, however, has rested in committee, and while those who have not wished to reject it to the house are defending their position, on the other hand the senate would not act, the latter body has not had the opportunity and there has been no way to tell what the senate might do, as

WOMAN WEAK DIZZY, FAINT

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It.

Bridgeport, Connecticut.—"I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings and other troubles women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. I am feeling very good now and shall continue taking them for a while. I have been telling my cousin about the medicine and she wants to take it, too. I always recommend it."—Mrs. HENRY C. SMITH, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 6, Bridgeport, Conn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many. In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 per cent. reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

joint resolutions have sometimes gone through in a jiffy.

Coolidge Becomes Stronger
The more the president urges congress to confine itself to legislation desired by the people the stronger will his position become in the opinion of his advisers who think the country is getting the impression that congress does nothing but investigate while important bills are neglected.

Should congress beat itself in the next few days and pass the joint resolution sought by the president, it would, of course, be quite a feather in his cap, politically speaking, for it would place the leadership of the republican party in his hands. But even if the measure is lost, Mr. Coolidge's effort in the direction of immediate tax reduction will not hurt him. The democrats have begun to raise the cry that Mr. Coolidge is playing politics.

Congress Takes Its Time
In any event, this is one of those instances where all factions agree that a reduction of taxes would be a

In spite of that impression, however, congress is taking its time. believing, no doubt, that the cut in 1923 incomes can be made as effective on June 15 as now, and that the consideration of the 1923 and 1924 incomes together will help to get the whole revenue bill out of the way before next autumn's elections. Meanwhile the treasury department from income taxes this week are below normal and the public is awaiting the action of congress, optimistically thinking a last minute spurt will make the cut in 1923 incomes effective.

By FRANK SINCLAIR

"KILL the umpire" is one of the greenest words in the American public, but most of the time it is uttered in a slangy, uneducated manner. In a signed article recently, under the name of a college education, a man declared that the umpire is an honest individual and that he seldom knows until after a play is made of whether each player is a member. In the article referred to, Morality spoke of a case in which the Cleveland Indians were accused of having been taken in and there was no official substitute, Frank told, each of the Indians who by the way lives at Huntington, Wis., under a name with his brother, Hobbs, was sent out by Tris Speaker to take the job of umpiring. Each was accepted for the job by the manager of the opposing team and by the umpire-in-chief.

THE INSIDE of the story was told the writer by Charles Goodrich of Port Atkinson, who spent several hours a week ago, during the Cleveland Indians' visit, left to join the Clevelanders at Hot Springs, Ark. Goodrich tells the story this way: "I was out there in the field, and I was playing that I would win by a long shot, because if we got beat, I would be in the line of the razzing that I would get in the showers and in the clubhouse. The players are just like all the rest of them and would have been just as good as my shoulders and never forgiven me. As it was, though, we won, 2 to 1, and there was nothing said."

THERE CAME one close decision. A baserunner came tearing down the line and slid into the sack. The ball came about the same time. I called the runner out and it happened to be Tris Speaker, the boss. He turned around to me and said: "Oh, Frank, are you a sucker? You're out!" and motioned him off the diamond. I didn't know who the runner was until Speaker spoke. There was one other runner coming in to make in the game and it also was against Cleveland and I didn't know who the man was until after it was over. You can't be too sure in the field, playing for that top-sid, but I was in a tough place, believe me."

Charles Paddock, national champion sprinter, returns home to Pasadena, after winter lecture tour, and starts training for Olympics.

TRAINING CAMP CHATTER

Exhibition games were scheduled at several baseball training camps Thursday. Boston Braves were to meet St. Louis Cardinals at Brimfield, Mass. Phillies were to play Brooklyn Dodgers at Coney Island. Cincinnati Nationals were to clash with Indianapolis Hoosiers at Plant City, Fla. Chilly weather continues to hamper winter players. Trainers, however, are not deterred by the weather. Wednesday, so there was no lineup of regulars against Yankees. There was intensive batting practice, however. At the New York Yankees in training at New York except Bob Meusel, who is nursing injuries. Arrival of Walter Blythe, pitcher, complete roster of Yankees, although Bob Shuekey, though on ground, and not signed contract. Babe Ruth fouled so many balls to practice, Manager Huggins took on several looks. Huggins was showing to effect of influenza on his eyes. Glants back to training routine at Sarasota, Fla., where team captain, led by Frank Frisch beat Helms College, 9 to 1. Huggins at the University of Florida, where he was practicing with practice of Athletics at Monticello, Ala. Huggins held Boston Red Sox indoors at San Antonio. Winter camp of Chicago Cardinals at Winter Haven, Fla., is hampered by rain. Manager Frank Chance will be unable to join team before the opening of season next month. Talk of trade in current in the market for Demaree, owner of Pittsburgh Pirates, Friday, and William Weeks, the Cubs business manager, Saturday.

BASKETBALL DRIBBLES

All eyes of western conference are turned toward Madison where the Badgers meet Chicago on Saturday night. The house is sold out for the greatest game of the season and one that perhaps will be the greatest in years of the Big Ten. Efforts to get a crowd of 20,000 are being made. Followers of both teams are expected. The Wisconsin team to have the breaks. In first place, Menawell's crew has been putting up remarkable basketball all season upon the home court. In the second, Wisconsin has not lost two games to the same team in any season for the last nine years and inasmuch as Chicago took the first place in the national championship with the Badgers, Wisconsin will have everything to gain in this battle and Chicago everything to lose so it will be a bang-up contest and the team who holds a dust is indeed fortunate. Janesville has been playing at Whitewater district meet Thursday afternoon against Stoughton. Meets open in 16 districts of state. Brodhead and current considered strongest from caliber of teams entered. Casual interest developing in district amateur meet to open at V. M. C. A. here Friday night with 12 teams. Defeating the American Metals in a city league basketball game at the local V. M. C. A. Wednesday night, the Chevrolet Motors team went into a three way tie for third place in the circuit. The score was 29 to 20. Other teams holding the place are the American Legion and the Bankers.

Wednesday's games closed the 1923-24 season. The other contest was between the Bankers and the Chevrolet Motors team, which won 25 to 15. This win put the Bankers in a tie with the American Metals for seventh.

The league will celebrate its most successful season with a banquet at the "V" gymnasium, Thursday night. The eats will be spread upon the boards at 6:30 p. m.

The Chevrolet Motors team, which won 25 to 15, put in the first half of their scrap, Wednesday night, leading 16 to 5 at half time. But in the second half, the Metals rushed right along and outscored their opponents by two points, but could not get up enough headway to take the lead. Scoring honors were well divided with Sprackling of the Chevrolet taking high honors.

The Bankers had no trouble trimming the Cottons. They ran up a lead of 16 to 11 at the end of the first half and then stepped out to lead the game in the second. George Delruid had his eagle eye fastened on the hoop, making two field goals and five free throws.

A.B.C. Meet Starts on Home Stretch

(By Associated Press)

Chicago.—The American Bowling Congress tournament enters its final fortnight of play Thursday, with possibilities of fewer and fewer changes in the list of the first 10 standers.

A score of more than 3,100 is necessary to clinch first place in the two men event, tournament followers believe, and the mark of 1,304 in the doubles, set by Dolan-Hill of Minneapolis, is expected to stand many more days of competition. The 722 world's record total set by Karl in the singles bids fair to come through the competition unscathed, bowling fans think.

Wisconsin and Illinois bowlers are in the majority in Thursday's singles and doubles play. Bowlers will compete from Watman, Madison, Milwaukee, Kenosha, and New Holstein, Wis.; Chicago, Waukegan, Champaign, and Rockford, Ill.; Sheboygan, N. Y.; Hannan, Mich.; Bucyrus, O., and Marion, Ind.

BOARD REINSTATES RAILROAD VETERAN

U. S. Labor Body Restores Fondy Man to Job and Seniority Rights.

(By Associated Press.)
Fond du Lac, Wis., March 12.—Robert Thirk, Fond du Lac, formerly employed as carman for the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Saint Ste. Marie Railway company, who was discharged from service following strike troubles in 1922, has been restored to his former position at Fond du Lac, with seniority right unimpaired, and with full pay, by a decision of the United States Railroad board.

A decision in the case, brought in behalf of Thirk, by the railway employees' department, American Federation of Labor, against the road, was handed down by the board in Chicago last week. Previous to his discharge, he had been employed by the company for 15 years.

The company claimed it was justified in discharging Thirk because of alleged remarks made to one Faber, an employee who had gone back to work before the strike was adjusted and settled. It was alleged to have stated to Faber that the latter, among others who had gone back to work before the settlement, would be let out when the strikers came back to work after the settlement. This Faber testified, he took for a threat.

The labor board held, however, there was such difference of testimony on the point that the conversation was not of such character to warrant the discipline administered to Thirk.

SEARCH, SEIZURE UPHELD BY COURT

unlawful possession and that the keeping of such liquor made the premises a public nuisance.

May Modify Contract.
Provisions of a contract made by a county board, providing for delivery of a bond for performance of a contract, may be modified by the board as to bond requirements, the attorney general's department today advised District Attorney H. E. Starnford of Chippewa Falls. The opinion was rendered in connection with a contract between Chippewa county and the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company for discontinuing a Chippewa county road.

The court's ruling sustains the following counts against Bombinski, who was convicted in Green Lake county.

The purchase of privately manufactured liquor; possession of such liquor; maintenance of a nuisance; and a second offense under the Severe act.

Search Held Legal.
"Under the ruling of this court, the premises were subject to search without a warrant and the search must be held to be legal," the ruling said.

"Evidence obtained by the search warrant was properly admitted on the trial. This in no wise violates the sanctity of the home, because it is a condition upon which a party obtains his license and he is presumed to have consented to search of his residence if his residence is so connected with the drink parlor as to make the connected rooms easy of access from one to the other."

Unlawful Possession.
"Careful review of the evidence shows conclusively that the defendant purchased illegally manufactured liquor. This is an offense under the statutes. Likewise the evidence is conclusive that the defendant had such liquor in his possession in his dwelling, used in part as a place for the sale of non-intoxicant liquors. This is prima facie evidence of unlawful possession. The keeping of intoxicant liquor in a house in violation of the prohibition act constitutes such a public nuisance."

Won't Affect Enforcement.
Decisions of the supreme court this week on provisions of the Severe prohibition act will not materially affect enforcement work of the state department, Herman W. Sachtlein, prohibition director, said today.

Probably the most important liquor decision was that in the Allen case, holding that individuals cannot be searched or arrested on liquor charges without warrants. Mr. Sachtlein stated, he said, however, that this was the interpretation that has been given the state law by the department in the past and that state prohibition officers had been notified before not to make arrests without warrants.

Broaden Old Ruling.
The ruling in the Peltowski case, holding valid Section 29 of the prohibition law providing for keeping of soft drink parlors, was an elaboration on a previous ruling of the higher court, Mr. Sachtlein said. This provision has been enforced in the past by state officers.

In the Leher case from Chippewa county, the court held that destruction of evidence while prohibition officers are searching premises is sufficient cause for conviction. This is the clear provision of the statute, according to Mr. Sachtlein, and has been so interpreted by the department.

Broaden questions regarding the Severe law are involved in the Bombinski and Baltes cases now pending before the supreme court, it is said.

WIDOW OF SUICIDE SMITH TELLS STORY OF UNPAID STOCKS

to Columbus, O., where he persuaded Mrs. Stinson-Smith to come to Washington and tell her amazing story.

Arrest Threatened.
Senator Brookhart declared the woman said she had been threatened with arrest, and for that reason it was decided to take her testimony at once instead of later in the week.

When she had left the stand after an hour's grilling, during which her low voice was frequently stifled with sobs, she had testified that

Mr. Smith and Mr. Daugherty possessed stock in White Motors and Pump Oil which had "cost them nothing."

The two and others were arranging a "big thing" over the pictures of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, which, Mr. Smith told her, would bring them $150,000.

During the last six months of his life Mr. Smith talked about nothing else but his financial worries and "was in constant fear that he was going to be closed down on," but she did not reveal by whom.

Mr. Smith lived in Mr. Daugherty's apartment and was his closest friend. They lived for some time in a house owned by E. L. McLean, but paid no rent.

Mr. Smith, in his will, left Mr. Daugherty, himself and the attorney general's brother, Mal Daugherty, $25,000 each.

Since joining the attorney general in Washington, at the beginning of the Harding administration, Mr. Smith had made "big money" through deals in the capital.

Mrs. Stinson-Smith's testimony was given and at times she was on the point of breaking down. None of the leads were pressed to their conclusion by Senator Wheeler, who questioned the witness. No facts were ever brought out regarding how the $150,000 was to be made through the flight pictures. The missing links are expected to be brought out when Mrs. Stinson-Smith takes the stand Thursday at 2 p. m.

In speaking of the deals in oil and motor stock, the witness used the words "they" and "we" in relating conversations with her former husband. Pressed, she said she always assumed that Mr. Daugherty was the other party with Mr. Smith, as he was always mentioned in the conversation, and that Mr. Smith's activities in Washington were almost solely with the attorney general.

REPUBLICAN OFFICIALS CALLED IN OIL INQUIRY.
Washington.—Rudolph Hynlekin, republican national committee chairman from Ohio, was subpoenaed today by the oil committee.

Subpoenas also went out for Harry MacKenzie, attached to President Coolidge's Chicago campaign headquarters, and for John Gilmore, deputy secretary of state of Ohio. Norman J. Gould of New York and Charles H. Garrison of Columbus, O., also were summoned.

Hynlekin, MacKenzie and Gilmore are to be questioned in connection with the story of Leonard Wood, Jr., about an attempted oil deal at the republican national convention at Chicago in 1920.

The Heavens in March

By DR. C. S. HAININ
of the Columbian University Observatory Staff.

The southwestern sky contains the brilliant stars and constellations which March inherits from the winter nights. Orion and all his magnificent companions, to which we have been calling attention in the last few articles, are still to be observed at map-time. Taurus the Bull, which leads the procession westward, is now about half way from the zenith to the horizon and it will not be long before the aspect of the constellations is entirely changed and those of summer are with us.

Canis Minor, with its brightest star, Procyon, and the Gemini, Castor and Pollux, are just about on the meridian at map-time. To the eastward of the meridian, about half way to the horizon, lies the large constellation of Leo, the Lion, with its first magnitude luminary, Regulus. The stars just north of Regulus form the well-known sub-group of the Sickle. Regulus is in the handle of the Sickle.

The Lion itself is supposed to represent the lion which Hercules killed as one of his famous 12 tasks. Lion and Sickle have really nothing to do with each other and this shows how the constellation and star myths and nomenclature are composed of factors of various origins superimposed one upon another.

Regulus, the royal star, is of magnitude plus 1.3, and its distance is known to be about 73 light years. It appears to be a single physical unit, for neither the telescope nor the more powerful spectroscopic methods have been able to resolve it into a double star.

In color Regulus is blue-white, belonging to the same general type as Rigel, the great blue-white star in Orion. Although Regulus is only the twelfth star on the scale of brightness it was very greatly venerated by the ancients, because it marked at one time in the earth's past the place in the heavens occupied by the sun at the hottest time of the year. Today, however, this is not the case, for the phenomenon known to astronomers as the precession of the equinoxes has moved the position of the equator so as to make the sun occupy a position in the constellation of Cancer the Crab at that time.

Changes in Brightness. At the eastern end of Leo is Denebola, the next brightest star in this constellation, of magnitude plus 2.2. This star is of spectral type slightly different from Regulus and more like Sirius, the Great Dog. From the comments of the ancient astronomers and the importance for them, it is not unlikely that it was long ago a great deal brighter than at present.

Such changes are known to occur among the stars, and it is a fact that a great many stars undergo some kind of variation in brightness. It is not unlikely that small changes in the case of the sun. Furthermore, according to our ideas of the evolutionary change with everything else in the universe, a very slow continuous variation is going on in all stars, although this is so slow that a marked change must consume many million years.

Castor is another prominent star in which it is suspected that a gradual change has actually been observed, because several hundred years ago when the more modern system of stellar nomenclature was introduced, that of Greek letter and constellation name, Castor was brighter or at least as bright as its team-mate, Pollux, which is now considerably brighter for Castor and not Pollux was given the name of Alpha Gemini.

The diminishing of Denebola's brightness is not due to a recession from the earth, for it is actually getting nearer our solar system at the rate of 12 miles per second, and its present distance is known to be about 39 light years. It is about 10 times as bright as the sun, if the two are viewed from equal distances.

To the north of the Sickle is the small constellation of Leo Minor, the Lesser Lion, a modern grouping of stars originally classed with the other stars of Leo.

To the east of Leo is the rather insignificant group known as Coma Berenices, or Hair of Berenice. She was the wife of one of the Ptole-mae dynasty of Egyptian rulers who sprang from the original Ptolemy, a general in the army of Alexander the Great of Macedonia. The story goes that she vowed her hair to the goddess Venus if her husband returned safe from a military expedition. He did, and she promptly cut off her hair and deposited it in the temple. Some time later it was stolen, and Ptolemy was angry and undoubtedly threatened the temple authorities, whereupon it was announced that the goddess had herself taken the queen's hair to heaven and there it was among the stars, a new constellation. And all was peaceful.

Another minor constellation in this region is Canes Venatici, the Hunting Dogs, which lies within the curve of the Dipper's handle to the north of Coma. The brightest of this group is a star of third magnitude, to which some English astronomer tried to fasten the name of Cor Caroli or Heart of Charles I.

That the most interesting thing in this constellation is unfortunately not visible either to the naked eye or in a small telescope. It is a fine spiral nebula. Two spirals are apparently almost in contact and seem to be rotating in opposite directions.

There will be a partial eclipse of the sun on the 17th, which will be invisible from this part of the world. The south polar regions and the
